September Edition

What's happening in room 209

Believe it or not, fall is upon us. Boy oh boy how time flies. We are in the middle of first quarter already. Progress reports are scheduled to come out the week of Sept. 14th. Be on the lookout for them. When you receive them, be sure and sign the last page and return it to school. If you need to schedule a conference, feel free to contact me to schedule a time.

Every night your child will bring home a planner and a homework assignment and occasional notes from me written inside. These notes may praise your child's success that day at school, address an issue, or ask a question. Please help remind your student to show you the planner's daily entry each night and please sign it so that we can stay in communication. I love communicating with you! Planners will be checked every day for parent signatures. The consistent homework assignment every night is to read at least 15 minutes. I encourage you to read to and with your child during this time, as it will contribute to his/her reading success. Homework is something that your student will occasionally need assistance with, but for the most part they are for the purpose of review and reinforcement of skills covered in class. In addition remember all homework is due every Friday, no exceptions.

The information folder's section labeled, "Keep at Home" should be emptied and sorted through every time it is received. "Return to school" is for information that needs to be filled out and returned to school. This folder is also a great way for you to send things to me, as I will check it with the planner.

If you have not returned the emergency forms, please do so as soon as possible.

Also PLEASE try and get all necessary school supplies by next week. If you need assistance please let me know.
